SportsBook Breakers Spotlight System of the Day

PLAY ON: Starters who are averaging less than five innings pitched per start but have started at least 13 innings on the season, when their teams starters have averaged less than five innings per start in their past three games.

315-356 (-0.52, 46.9%) +4.1% ROI

The lowdown of this system is that a starter is going who has really struggled to work deep into games all season long. And his team would seem to be in need of a long start after going to the bullpen early in their recent games. These teams do perform below average in these games, winning 46.9% of the time, but the lines overreact in this situation with an average of 127.9, causing them to go over.
